Identification

tester
R. J. Feiertag

Purpose

This procedure is a special form of the Listener which keeps totals of time and page faults.

Usage

        call tester;

This is equivalent to a call to the Listener.

        call tester$totals;

This call writes out the total processor time, real time, and page faults for this process since the last call to tester$totals.

Implementation

The implementation is the same as for the Listener except that variables are included to keep the time and page fault totals and the entry point tester$totals calls write_out to print these totals out.
